

Information for employers, voluntary organisations, education, career and transition support providers.

Career related aspirations may differ or pose greater challenge for young people with different or additional needs such as Autism and yet are equally valid to individuals and their families. Their goal of achieving their potential in learning and work towards a fulfilling and independent life is supported in partnership with you and we thank you for the opportunities and support you are giving to our young people.

Employers.

At Beverley we continue to develop strong links with local employers and businesses. Contact with employers is invaluable for our students as it gives them real experiences from which to learn about the opportunities that are available and accessible to them in different career sectors and also generates higher aspirations for employment.

We work with employers in a variety of ways within our careers programme to enhance students CEIAG (Careers Education, Information, Advice and Guidance) and develop employability skills. Some employers:

- provide much needed work experience placements for our students to gain real firsthand experience of the world of work and development of their employability skills
- come into schools to talk about their businesses: what workers roles are like, what skills and qualifications are needed and looking at current and possibly future job market expectations
- enable students to visit their businesses which provide an insight into a range of employment sectors from which students can broaden their knowledge of the world of work and opportunities within it
- work with students in school to develop their employability skills such as helping to carry out mock interviews and providing useful feedback or supporting with employability skills workshops.

If you are a local employer and feel that you could offer opportunity, no matter how small or how frequent, please contact us as it really does make a difference. Below are employers who currently work closely with us.
